While real estate agents chase leads and close deals on houses, there's another level of deal-making that takes place within the real estate industry: mergers, acquisitions, integrations and partnerships.

We'll be recapping every week's noteworthy deals that didn't make it into print (and some that did) for your perusal.

Engel & Völkers North America announced Christa Huffstickler, one of Atlanta's top real estate professionals, has joined the international network to open Engel & Völkers Atlanta, the company's fifth brokerage in the Greater Atlanta area. Building on more than 15 years of experience in new construction and residential real estate, Huffstickler and her team specialize in developer services, having worked on many of the city's premier projects including 1065 Midtown above the Loews Hotel, 1010 Midtown, The Atlantic and Emerson Buckhead "Atlanta is a top relocation destination largely due to a rare combination of affordability and high standards of living, along with a booming job market, especially in the tech sector," said Anthony Hitt, CEO, Engel & Völkers North America, in a statement. "We always look for the best of the best, and from the first time we met Christa, we knew she'd be a strong addition to the Engel & Völkers network."
